THE DRAUGHT
BLACK DRAUGHT
THE ORIGINAL
LIVER MEDICINE

A yellow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.

I have used Thedford's Black Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and muffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All drugists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 66 Warren St., N. Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

AN ODD COLLECTION.

Why a Book Lover Buys Old Bibles and Hymnbooks.

"All book collectors have their weaknesses," remarked a man who is often seen poring over the sidewalk counters of secondhand bookshops, "and mine, I confess, runs in the line of old Bibles and hymnbooks. Not particularly because they are Bibles and hymnbooks, but because I simply can't stand it to see such books tossed about as dusty, almost worthless secondhand goods. Except in the case of rare old Bibles or quite ancient hymnbooks, such books cost but a trifle. Religious books, as a rule, are almost unsalable in secondhand shops, and I buy a great many; only, however, such as contain family names and inscriptions of pathetic character.

"My first purchase of the kind was an Episcopal prayer book, battered and torn, with the name of an old friend of mine in gilt on the cover. It gave me a shock to find it on a secondhand counter, so I paid the required dime and carried it home. The man is dead, and his children are living in other cities, well to do. I have no idea how his prayer book became public property. People are queer. I offered it to a remote relative of the former owner, but she said she didn't care about it. Since then I have bought in other old family Bibles and hymnbooks which belonged to people I had known or which contain interesting written matter. It is pitiful to see a Bible inscribed, 'To my dear son Henry, from his devoted mother,' or, 'Elizabeth, from a loving father,' or, 'Little William's birthday gift to Uncle William.'

"When these books come into my hands, I erase or tear out the inscriptions, and if my shelf of old Bibles and hymnbooks ever gets started out again as 'religious junk' it will all be anonymous and wanting in that distressing quality which has made me perhaps absurdly sentimental over it."—Detroit Free Press.

Argument From Precedent.

Lincoln was once arguing a case against an opponent who tried to convince the jury that precedent is superior to law and that custom makes things legal in all cases. Lincoln's reply, given in Miss Ida Tarbell's life of the great war president, was one of his many effective analogies in the form of a story.

Lincoln told the jury that he would argue the case in the same way as his opponent and began:

"Old Squire Bagby, from Menard, came into my office one day and said:

"'Lincoln, I want your advice as a lawyer. Has a man what's been elected justice of the peace a right to issue a marriage license?'

"I told him not, whereupon the old squire threw himself back in his chair very indignantly and said:

"'Lincoln, I thought you was a lawyer. Now, Bob Thomas and me had a bet on this thing, and we agreed to let you decide; but if this is your opinion I don't want it, for I know a thundersin' sight better. I've been a squire eight years and have done it all the time.'

Not His Fish That Was Spoiled.

He dined wherever mealtime found him and in consequence in many different restaurants. It had become a habit to notice the dish which most of the other diners had and to order it. In this particular restaurant a fish dinner seemed to be the proper thing. An old man at the next table was particularly enjoying his fish. Presently the waiter brought the stranger his portion. He looked askance, sniffed freely and remarked to the waiter:

"I say, this fish does not seem to be quite fresh."

"Oh, yes, sir; yours is all right," said the waiter. "It's the other old gent's what's off color." And he motioned with his thumb to the ravenous one near by.—New York Tribune.

A Devoted Couple.

Mrs. Hartt—Yes, I have no doubt there are unhappy marriages, but really I cannot understand how they are possible. Now, there's George and I. We are so devoted. He says he could not exist without me, and I'm sure I live only for him.

Mrs. Greene—You really are to be congratulated, both of you. By the way, how long have you been married?

Mrs. Hartt—Just a week day after tomorrow.—Boston Transcript.

Can't Fool the Sex.

A young lady from London was visiting for the first time a country farm. Seeing a cow looking very savage, she said to an old farmer, "Oh, how savage that cow looks!"

"Yes, miss, it's the red parabol you are carrying," said the farmer. "Well," she said, "I knew it was a trifle out of fashion, but I never thought a country cow would notice it."—Tit-Bits.

THE GIANT OF THE FORCE.

Terror Inspired by a New England City's First Policeman.

Some of the old inhabitants of a small New England city were exchanging reminiscences the other day about the establishment of its police department. The force was small in numbers, but one of its members was almost a giant in size, 6 feet 4½ inches tall and broadly built. There chanced to be a hitch about the delivery of the men's uniforms, so that only one was received promptly, and the Goliath of the force stalked forth in his splendor alone.

Naturally he created a sensation. As he patrolled the long, winding street that ran the whole length of the place there were many comments upon his personal appearance, most of which were discreetly uttered after he had passed out of hearing.

At length, however, a shambling, shabby, sly eyed, crack witted ne'er do well stepped up and touched the gorgeous figure on the arm.

"Say, mister," he whispered humbly, "tell me the safest law to break, and I'll break it for the honor of walking down Main street with them buttons."

The information requested was not vouchsafed, and the giant marched on in his buttons and his dignity. But a little farther along a small boy who was playing in the front yard was no less impressed, although more bewildered, by the glittering and mighty apparition. He gave one look, eyes and mouth at their roundest, and then indoors, crying to his mother:

"Oh, mamma, look, look! Is he war or the circus?"

Even after he had become a familiar figure to the citizens the huge guardian of the peace retained some of his impressiveness. To one prisoner at least he so embodied the terrors of the law that the man submitted to an arrest which a few words of explanation at the time could have averted. When in court he did at length explain, the judge inquired in astonishment why he had not done so before. Smiling confidentially at his honor, the accused replied:

"Well, judge, it's like this: You're folks; but as for that Bunker Hill monument with a helmet on top, he may be a first rate handcuflin' machine, but he ain't a man. I didn't darst argify with him. No, sir. I'd as soon thought of tryin' to make my position clear to the town fire injun."—Youth's Companion.

Just Retribution.

"My little one," said a newspaper man, "is two years old now, but has clung to her bottle of milk. Recently we began to give her regular food. We have a young pup at the house, so in explanation of the change I led her out on the porch and, showing her the pet, said: 'Tootsie, that baby dog drinks your milk now.' She did not say anything, only stamped her foot at it.

"The next morning my wife and I heard a terrific racket and squealing. Thinking the baby had been run over or hurt herself, we ran out. In the corner of the porch was the poor little dog, his nose in the air, the tears streaming from his eyes, and howling with all his puny might. The baby stood over it with a stick in her hand, and she was certainly using it. 'What for whip poor doggie?' we demanded. 'Teal my milk,' she lisped. 'Not doggie—piggie!'" —Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Reminder of a Tragedy.

In his book, "All the Russias," Henry Hoffman gives an interesting description of the bedroom of Czar Alexander II., which is kept exactly as it was on the morning he left it. He was brought back an hour after he left it bleeding to death from injuries inflicted by the assassin's bomb. As the room was, so it remains. The half smoked cigarette lies upon the ash tray in a glass tube. A little revolver lies before the mirror. Upon each of the tables and upon several chairs is a loosely folded clean handkerchief, for it was the czar's wish to have one of these always within reach of his hand. There lie all his toilet articles, a few plain bottles and brushes. It is all modest beyond belief, and the brushes are half worn.—Leslie's Weekly.

The Wheels of a Railroad.

On the Burlington railroad system of 8,000 miles, over 385,000 wheels are in service under the various passenger, freight and way cars, locomotives and other rolling stock. An average of 40,000 wheels are purchased each year, and they are very carefully inspected, as they are bought with a guarantee. According to the stipulation each is warranted to last six years, or cover 75,000 miles. All the wheels are numbered and a careful record kept. When they fail to do the work, they are returned to the manufacturer, who is compelled to make the loss good.

England's Fig Gardens.

The industry of fig culture in Britain may be said to be centered in Worthing, though how this neighborhood should come to possess the most extensive fig orchards it is hard to say. Those who never have had an opportunity of visiting the Worthing fig orchards would be astonished to learn of the size, age and vigor this tree attains there. Even in cottage gardens in the immediate neighborhood the fig tree thrives remarkably well. It is in and around the village of Sompting that the chief market supply of figs is obtained. The trees are here planted in groves, irregular now because some have died and been replaced by younger trees, and many of them are twenty feet high and as many through. They are not allowed to grow higher than this; otherwise the labor of gathering the fruit would be increased.—London Standard.

STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the light and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.

Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Astoria, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. I was troubled so often that I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1899, I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took five in succession, then I thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how severely I suffered.

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

SONOMA, NOVEMBER 15, 1902.

THAT MOTION TO RECONSIDER.

The street lighting proposition will again come up before the City Trustees on the first Wednesday of next month. It is certain that Trustees Pinelli, Hotz and Ciucci, constituting a majority of the Board, will favor the signing of a yearly contract with the electric light company at the rate of $2 per month for each 32 candle power street light, as has been demanded by petition by at least nine-tenths of the taxpayers of Sonoma.

Before this contract can be entered into, however, the resolution introduced by Trustee Breitenbach at the May meeting, which has relegated this town to darkness, will have to be rescinded upon a motion to reconsider. After which a new resolution may be introduced in its stead.

The motion to reconsider can only be made by a Trustee who voted in the affirmative on the objectionable resolution. These were Trustees Breitenbach, Poppe and Pinelli. The latter now says he will make such a motion, and if put by President Poppe will undoubtedly carry and the street lights be again restored to the people. We say "if" because President Poppe, who is evidently a little rusty on parliamentary rules, is quoted as saying "that no member has a right to move for the reconsideration of a resolution except the one who introduced it." This is not so.

According to all authorities on parliamentary rules any one voting in the affirmative on a resolution or motion can ask for and demand a reconsideration. It will then take a two-thirds vote to reconsider and rescind the obnoxious resolution and renew the electric lighting contract at the old rate, and not four-fifths, as asserted by the President of the Board. That is to say—all this can be done by the votes of Trustees Pinelli, Ciucci and Hotz provided President Poppe puts the motion correctly and performs his sworn duty. If he fails to do this the aid of the courts can be evoked and he can be deprived of his office.

UP AGAINST IT.

C. H. Pond, District Attorney-elect, is up against the real thing now. There are three applicants for Assistant District Attorney under him, two wit: Lyman Green, the Petaluma lawyer; Chas. H. Adams, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, and R. L. Thompson, late Deputy County Clerk under Somers B. Fulton. All are very clever gentlemen and in every way qualified for the position. Now, as Mr. Pond has to choose as between the three, all of whom worked very hard for his election during the late campaign, we take it that there will be "a heap o' trouble on de old man's mind" between now and January 1st, when he will have made the appointment and entered upon the discharge of his duties of sending people to jail who voted for him and others who did not.

SUGGESTIVE, ISN'T IT?

City Trustees Poppe and Breitenbach a few months ago squelched Sonoma's very efficient Board of Health and put a quietus on the efforts of the people to put this town in a sanitary condition. Now these same Trustees are advertising for bids to construct another road to Mountain Cemetery. Very suggestive, isn't it?

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SECRETS WOMEN KEEP AT THE PRICE OF SUFFERING.

A woman usually passes through several stages on her way to the condition of semi-invalidism which limits the activities of so many of her sex. For a time she suffers in silence and ignorance, not able to relate her sufferings to their proper cause—womanly disease. When, presently, she makes the discovery that her general health is related to the local womanly health, she casts about for help. She dislikes to see the physician, she shrinks from talking to a stranger of the intimate matters of her woman's life, and when at last misery drives her to the doctor, her modesty is up in arms at the faintest hint of examination, and she finds excuse to put the matter off and goes home to endure another period of suffering. It was seen a strange thing if the sacrifice of modesty were necessary to the restoration of womanly health. Such a sacrifice is not necessary. Women suffering from womanly ailments in almost all stages have found a perfect and permanent cure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

A FREE OFFER.

To those women who suffer from disease in chronic form, Dr. Pierce offers the privilege of free consultation by letter, thus avoiding the unpleasant questionings, indecorous examinations and obnoxious local treatments deemed necessary by some local physicians. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

This offer of free consultation by letter should not be confused with offers of "free medical advice" which are made by persons without medical knowledge or experience, and who are barred, legally and professionally, from the practice of medicine. Though these people cannot practice medicine, because the law would be prompt to punish them, they can offer "free medical advice." Anybody can give advice without incurring the penalty of the law. It is well to remember, that the "medical" advice of an unqualified person, man or woman, is worse than worthless; it is absolutely dangerous.

Her Eighth Birthday Anniversary.

Miss Ramona Granice entertained eleven of her little school mates at a birthday party given at her home on Napa street on Thursday afternoon. Two o'clock brought the first little guest, who came carrying a large bouquet of flowers, and it was not long before the rest of the company arrived, each one bringing some little remembrance.

After the children had assembled games, music and refreshments were enjoyed throughout the afternoon. The birthday cake with its eight lighted candles adorned the center of the dining table. After partaking of the refreshments offered, the little folks repaired to the residence grounds, where the playing of games was renewed and kept up for some time, after which music was introduced. Those who contributed to this part of the entertainment were Emily Poppe, Henrietta Weber, Joe McMullin and Ramona Granice. It was six o'clock before the last guest departed. The following were the presents received: Emily Poppe, game; Henrietta Weber, box of writing paper; Helena Morris, bottle of cologne; Bernice and Wilma Hocker, game; Edna Gehl, colored beads; Nancy Bates, hair ribbon; Bernice Small, decorated basket of candy; Helena Kerner, cup and saucer; Joe McMullin, cup and saucer; Mira Colton, handkerchief. The other presents received were a toy automobile, gold ring, pocket knife, dress and ribbon.

was ulceration of the uterus, but I did nothing for it at the time, but as I gradually grew worse I began to see that I must do something, and having read a great deal about Dr. Pierce's remedies, I resolved to consult him in regard to my complaint. I did so, and received an answer advising me to try his medicines—Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. I procured the medicines as soon as I could and began the use of them. I have taken four bottles of Favorite Prescription and two of Golden Medical Discovery, and used also the local treatment advised by Dr. Pierce. I experienced relief almost from the first, as it almost immediately relieved the burning-down pains, and in about two months' time I felt that my health was wonderfully improved. I can most heartily recommend Doctor Pierce's remedies to anyone suffering from any similar complaint, and feel sure that if they will consult Dr. Pierce, they need suffer no longer.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries disagreeable and unhealthy drains, heals inflammation, ulceration, and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, giving mental cheerfulness and physical strength and making the baby's advent practically painless. As a tonic for weak, worn-out, run-down women and nursing mothers, Favorite Prescription is unsurpassed. It is a pure vegetable preparation and cannot disagree with the most delicate constitution.

DON'T PUT IT OFF. Do not delay the use of Favorite Prescription if you have any symptoms of womanly disease. Why drag around for years enduring useless suffering, when a remedy that has cured hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women is right within your reach? Get Favorite Prescription, take it, and be well.

When I first commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicines, writes Mrs. Geo. A. Strong, of Gansevoort, Saratoga County, N. Y., "I was suffering from female weakness, a disagreeable drain, being-down pains, weak and tired feeling all the time. I dragged around in that way for two years, and then I began taking your medicine. After taking the first bottle I began to feel better. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two of Golden Medical Discovery, and one of Pleasant Pellets, also used one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Now I feel like a new person. I can't thank you enough for your kind advice and the good your medicine has done me."

"I have a sister who is taking your medicine, and it is helping her."

Whenever a laxative medicine is required, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets with Favorite Prescription, as they assist the action of that remedy.

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious preparations, will offer a substitute for Favorite Prescription as "just as good." Judged by its records of cures of womanly ills, there is no other medicine just as good as Favorite Prescription.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED. The questions which many a woman longs to ask are answered fully and freely in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great book, containing more than a thousand large pages, is full of wisdom for women, both single and married. It is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PROVERBS

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants. For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free. Be sure that this picture is the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

THE BACHELOR BRUTE.

Why He Would Have Married Had He Been a Korean.

The matron was disgusted with the bachelor. There was no doubt about it. She said she was.

For the fourth time he had foiled her most skillful efforts at match-making. She had given him every opportunity to fall in love with four girls, any one of whom was a prize. They would have taken him, too, had he asked them the all important question, for he was decidedly a "catch." But he was happy in his single life and did not care to take a risk.

"I wash my hands of you," she said. "Never again, never, shall I introduce you to another girl, and I hope you may never know the happiness of being married to a charming woman."

"I second that hope with all my heart," he added, smiling. She glared.

"I wish you had been born a Korean!" she cried.

"Can't second that proposition," he replied. "American birth is good enough for me. But why a Korean? Surely you would not have me a pygmy, that you might beat me."

"I wouldn't touch you," she answered shortly; "but if you had been a Korean you would forget this bachelor madness. Until you had married you would have to wear hair in a braid, keep quiet in company and be without rights as a man. That would bring you to time quickly enough."

"I'm not so sure," he said. "Let us see what rights come to the Korean by marriage. He can pile his hair on top of his head, he can squat instead of sitting down properly, and he can jabber away in company."

"But you forget that until married he cannot smoke tobacco." She knew that was a telling shot. Had he not been punctuating his remarks with rings from his shining brief?

"I did forget the smoking," he said, smiling. "If I were a Korean, I would certainly marry."

"Brute!" she cried as he left her. —New York Tribune.

She Got Her Papa.

William Allen was known as the "iron governor" of Ohio not because he had been an iron king or anything like that, but because he had not the slightest sympathy in the world for a criminal, and whenever an application was made to him to pardon an erring one he was as "iron" and could not be moved, so he was called the "iron governor."

One Thanksgiving eve he was applied to for executive clemency by the wife of a notorious horse thief and one who was serving a third term at that. He sat at his desk, his back turned to the tearful pleader, not even condescending to look at her. She had brought with her a five-year-old girl, who had been quietly watching. Suddenly the child went to him and, pulling his coat tail, said:

"You mean old thing, I want my papa."

And the "iron governor" snatched her up, kissed her smack on the mouth and said, "And you shall have him."

True to his word, later that day the wife and child came away from the prison with the pardoned husband and father. —Denver Times.

How Glass Beads Are Made.

Glass beads are made in the following manner:

Two workmen take the melted glass, colored or uncolored, from the pot by dipping their blowing tubes into it. Each man then expands the "gathering" on the end of his tube, opens the hollow bulb at the end of his tubes, and the two bulbs while still very hot are joined together. This done, the men walk rapidly in opposite directions, thus drawing out the hollow glass until it is a long rod of small dimensions. All this is done in a shed somewhat like a rope walk.

The rod cools very quickly and is broken into pieces about a foot long. These shorter lengths are annealed and cut again into mere fragments. The next stage in the process is placing these fragments into a drum with a mixture of charcoal and plaster and causing the drum to revolve over a fire. The effect is to soften the perforated canes, as they may be called, and give them a rounded form, the charcoal and plaster dust preventing the beads from sticking together while soft.

Over a Game of Chess.

An awful example of the risks to be encountered by those who play chess with adversaries of uncertain temper is recorded in the "Annals of the Four Masters." Two kings of Irish provinces began a game on the best of terms, but he who got the worst of it seized one of the rooks and flung it with such force at his royal opponent that it entered the brain and killed him on the spot.

Jumped on a Ten-Penny Nail.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Portland, Va. DRESSING TO WRITE.

Peculiar Styles of Attire as Aids to Words and Ideas.

Many writers, composers, painters and sculptors have believed that their flood of ideas was helped by the adoption of some peculiar style of dress. Dumas, for example, used to take off his coat and vest, unfasten his shirt collar and turn up his sleeves to the elbows before beginning to write.

A fancy costume of black velvet was always donned by Wagner when he was composing, and a Tam O'Shanter cap. A signet ring presented to him by Frederick of Prussia was worn by Haydn while he was working, and Beethoven would wash his hands dozens of times before beginning his composition.

Mascagni while working on his Japanese opera arrayed himself in a flowing robe of eastern style, with all his surroundings oriental in character, oceans of coffee being consumed as necessary to inspiration.

Red was a color detested by Lewis Carroll, and a little girl who came to visit him was absolutely forbidden to wear a red frock of bright hue while out in his company. Pink and gray were his favorite combinations of color. In personal matters he had a great fear of extravagance and would only wear cotton gloves. He never wore an overcoat and always wore a tall hat, whatever might be the climatic conditions. He was devoted to the cup which cheers, but does not inebriate, and while writing "Alice In Wonderland" he consumed enormous quantities of tea. While composing he used to walk up and down the room, swinging the teapot backward and forward while the tea steeped.—Answers.

How Lincoln Won One Case.

Dr. D. B. Hill, who lived in Springfield, Ill., from 1836 to 1843, tells this characteristic story of Abraham Lincoln, with whom he was personally acquainted: "Once Lincoln was defending a man who was accused of cheating another man in a business deal. Lincoln was arguing before the jury that his client had no intention to defraud when the transaction occurred—in fact, that he never thought he was cheating the man."

"Pointing his finger at Judge Logan, his partner, Lincoln said: 'Any boy you meet in the street knows how to put on his clothes. You all know that Judge Logan is learned in the law, and nobody would accuse him of doing wrong. You will observe he has his shirt on with the wrong side in front. Now, the judge never intended to do that when he put his shirt on. You see, people do wrong without intending to do so. If my client has done anything wrong, he never intended to do so any more than Judge Logan intended to put on his shirt with the back side in front.'"

"Sure enough, Judge Logan had his shirt on wrong, and the use Lincoln made of his partner's mistake in dress caused his client to get off free."

Origin of the Cat.

There was, if we may trust the Arabic chronicles as set down by that devout scholar Damirei, no cat in the garden of paradise. Lion cubs and tiger cubs, little leopards and little panthers, I've had in numbers without doubt, but no pussy to grace and decorate her domestic hearth. How far this loss was responsible for the lamentable ennui which, Charles Lamb says, forced our first parents to sin themselves out of Eden it would be difficult to determine, but in that desolate world of toil which lay beyond the gleaming gates and sacred rivers of paradise no cat was found to comfort the sad exiles on their way. She sprang into existence at the deluge, for during the long weeks in which the ark floated over the waste of waters the rats and the mice increased so alarmingly that the comfort, if there was any comfort, of the inmates was threatened with destruction. Then Noah, equal to the emergency, passed his hand three times over the head of the lioness, and, lo, she sneezed forth the cat. — "The Fireside Sphinx," by Agnes Repplier.

Popping the Question.

A bashful Irish swain wished to make a proposal of marriage, but his courage failed him, and he induced his sister to become an intermediary; he remaining outside the half closed door, hidden, but within earshot, to hear the result.

It was not favorable. The fair one saucily tossed her head and replied:

"Indade, now, if I'm good enough to be married I'm good enough to be axed!"

Hearing this, the anxious lover thrust his head inside the door and said beseechingly:

"Norah, darlin', will ye do what Maggie axed ye?"

If you desire a good complexion use Moki Tea, a pure herb drink. It acts on the liver and makes the skin smooth and clear. Cures sick headaches. 25 and 50 cents. Money refunded if it does not satisfy you. Write to W. H. HOOKER & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for sample. R. G. Shoults, druggist.
